The Concrete Beton magazine (ISSN 1682-6116) is a Department of Higher Education and Training accredited technical journal, which sets out to promote excellence and innovation, in the design and use of concrete.

Concrete Beton is published quarterly by the Society and mailed exclusively to its members. Electronic versions are available through the Society's website at www.concretesociety.co.za

This unique publication provides an invaluable source of information on the science and practice of concrete, reaching professional disciplines that encompass project management, consulting, civil engineering, construction management, architecture, quantity surveying, and specialist suppliers in the concrete sector.

The editorial content provides a balance between scientific and technical discussions on concrete, and includes features on industry projects, events, seminars and Concrete Society activity.

Concrete Beton informs industry professionals on the latest developments in this field and includes local and international technical papers, to ensure that best practice solutions continue to be applied in South Africa's world class infrastructure.
